A HISTORY OF CONTINUED SUCCESS

UNDERSTANDING INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

At Millar Cameron, we are passionate about the sustainable development of Africa. Since being founded in 2007, we have partnered with clients across the public, private and voluntary sectors, whose work spans across a broad range of activities dedicated to the eradication of poverty and to building prosperous societies in Africa.

We are convinced that having the right people in the right roles is essential to delivering impactful work that succeeds in building African countries' resilience to major threats to their development. With less than a decade to go before the 2030 target for achieving the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, it is clear that the international development efforts of today are paramount to future success.

It is becoming increasingly noticeable that human-induced climate change is adversely impacting sustainable development work. Surging populations are also augmenting urbanisation and upsetting the balance of ecosystems. Development issues in Africa are being further exacerbated by these amplifying threats; if African countries are to realise their full development potential, a nuanced and multi-sectoral approach is required in order to maximise development opportunities.

Millar Cameron partners with clients working to find solutions to these complex development issues, enabling you to select and retain the most talented individuals to deliver your organisation's aims. We are proud to support the talent acquisition efforts of development finance institutions and impact investors, whose investments into agribusinesses, infrastructure and financial institutions contribute to the sustainable development of African countries. From investment professionals, to sourcing the chair for a portfolio company's board, we have extensive experience in finding the most suitable candidates for a wide range of positions.

We also work with humanitarian organisations across a variety of programmatic themes in Anglophone, Francophone and Lusophone African countries. From the crucial work of emergency relief programmes, to long-term projects tackling issues concerning education, healthcare, water and sanitation, and nutrition, we have cultivated an extensive network of development professionals across these practice areas. Drawing on our networks and direct headhunting methods, we accurately present the talent available in both local and international markets to our clients, advising you on how best to approach your recruitment requirements. As the demand for urbanisation rises and natural resources diminish, the African continent is witnessing an accelerated loss of biodiversity across many important ecosystems. Millar Cameron supports the talent acquisition strategies of world-leading conservation organisations working to protect nature, whilst involving local communities and creating opportunities for them to develop alternative livelihoods. Our committed conservation team is passionate about identifying skilled individuals for clients working to promote sustainable management of natural resources. We work closely with forest certification bodies, as well as sustainable forestry businesses that our clients invest into, to find the right individuals to affect progress in these areas.

Since Millar Cameron's inception in 2007, agriculture has been at the forefront of our expertise. Within our international development practice, we support the recruitment needs of organisations targeting the development of the private sector across Africa, with a specific focus on agriculture. With the United Nations stating that more than half of the global calories produced come from small-scale farms, we are committed to assisting clients that recognise the importance of developing the capacity of smallholder farmers in order to strengthen the resilience of food systems.

Underpinning all of this, is the need for inclusive and effective policies that enable societies to thrive. We work with institutes and consultancies involved in government advisory across a range of sectors, developing bespoke talent acquisition strategies designed to attract and retain professionals with highly sought-after skillsets. Our comprehensive network of professionals, paired with our nuanced understanding of the specific challenges faced by international development players operating across the African continent, mean that we are ideally placed to add value to your recruitment objectives. From unstable working conditions, to developing regional talent capacity, Millar Cameron's knowledgeable international development team is adept at sourcing the individuals whose experience and expertise enable you to deliver high quality work.

HOW WE CAN HELP

Our clients are considered our partners and a key element of our approach to each recruitment mandate is to take the time to gain a detailed understanding of your specific requirements, in order to develop a bespoke search strategy that is tailored to your recruitment brief. Having developed an in-depth knowledge of the wide-ranging issues that span across international development, along with an extensive network of senior professionals devoted to tackling them, Millar Cameron is expertly positioned to advise on matters such as diversity and inclusion goals, talent capacity and compensation.

We have successfully concluded 1,700 leadership mandates, 30% of which have been in Francophone or Lusophone countries

FIVE STEPS TO RECRUITMENT SUCCESS

Our executive search strategy follows a five-step approach that is tailored to your organisation's requirements:

Define

We discuss all aspects of the role with you, including the capabilities, background, culture and competencies of the desired professional. This allows us to determine the search priorities and parameters, and the criteria against which candidates will be measured.

Develop

We work with you to develop a bespoke outreach strategy that covers specific companies, industries and geographies that you want to target. We employ a combination of search methods, including research, direct headhunting, referrals and our established networks to identify a comprehensive longlist.

Engage

We conduct competency-based interviews that are tailored to the role to thoroughly assess each candidate's fit against your requirements. We ensure that all aspects discussed during the define stage are covered during interviews, before collating the shortlist.

Present

We present you with a pack comprising of a personal profile, interview notes, compensation information, and a detailed curriculum vitae, for each candidate that is shortlisted. We discuss reasons for shortlisting candidates with you and remain involved throughout the selection process, preparing and debriefing candidates after each step.

Close

We conduct detailed reference reports on the selected candidate, and we can also provide background checks and psychometric testing, where necessary. We support you throughout the negotiation process to ensure a successful outcome.

WE LEAD FROM THE FRONT

Our knowledgeable team is passionate about identifying the individuals whose expertise and experience will enable your organisation to further contribute to the sustainable development of Africa. Our understanding of the market and our established regional network allow us to add value to your search.
